

VOTE IN PRIMARY WILL BE HEAVY

Fourth District to Hold Election for New Congress-man.

SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION MEETS

Petersburg to Be Well Represented at Anti-Saloon League Conference.

Times-Dispatch Bureau, 109 North Sycamore Street, Petersburg, Va., January 17.

One week from to-morrow and the Democratic primary to decide which of the four candidates in the race will be honored with the nomination for Congress in the Fourth District will take place. The canvass thus far has been a remarkably quiet one, practically a still hunt, but a pretty thorough one. There have been no public meetings, no political speaking, no spectacular incidents. Literature has been freely distributed, and the candidates have had face to face talks with the voters, and the qualified list throughout the district has been increased to an extent that justifies the expectation of an unusually large vote. Within the last several days some spice has been injected into the contest by rumors. Judge Watkins, for instance, has found it necessary to pronounce as false a report that the Anti-Saloon League is advising its adherents to vote against him. This report is also denied by the Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, who says the league has taken no such action in the campaign. Judge Watkins says that many members of the Anti-Saloon League are among his warmest supporters.

The peculiar features of this congressional campaign place predictions as to the result at fault. The candidates come from the four sections of the district, and each is said to be strong in his own section, while each will receive votes throughout the district that is in the special territory of his opponents.

Sunday School Union.
The Methodist Sunday School Union of this city and vicinity held one of the largest meetings in its history yesterday afternoon in High Street Church. The edifice was crowded, many persons having to stand during the services. The program, both musical and otherwise, was of an attractive and varied character, all of the eight schools taking part in it. The address on the occasion was delivered

Rheumatism is instantly relieved by SLOAN'S LINIMENT

Prices, 25c., 50c., and $1.00.

You Needn't Buy Odds and Ends Here Unless You Want To—

Because our stocks are kept complete all the time.

Shipments are continually coming in to replace the inroads made into our stocks.

So you need not buy odds and ends unless you wish to do so on account of our price concessions.

Sydnor & Hundley, Incorporated
"Furniture for the Home Beautiful."
709-11-13 East Broad Street, Richmond, Va.

PIANOS

Manufacturer's Sale

CONTINUES AT

Lee Fergusson

Piano Co.'s

BEST MAKES

$169, $185, $215, $273

119 East Broad St.

W. Minor Woodward Stewart M. Woodward

Rough and Dressed LUMBER, SASH, BLINDS and DOORS.

Ninth and Arch, Richmond, Va.

DROPSY Cured; quick relief; removes all swelling in 8 to 20 days; 30 to 50 days effects permanent cure. Trial treatment given free to sufferers; nothing for cure. Dr. H. H. GREEN'S BOX, No. 4, Atlanta, Ga.

Rich in Cod Liver Oil.

OZOMULSION

The Distinguishing Feature of Ozomulsion is its CURATIVE QUALITY, Which All Other emulsions Lack.

THE DANGER POINT FOR WEAK LUNGS

Hard Work is Good for Strong People, But Death to the Weak.

That's why cold weather is death to thousands who suffer from Weak Lungs. Even the healthiest and strongest break down during the rigors of the winter months.

Then what must it mean to millions of Lung Sufferers who haven't the vitality to fight the elements?

It means DEATH.

There is a Danger Point for all with Weak Lungs beyond which it is not wise to allow their Lungs to go. Coughs, Colds, Pain in the Lungs, Grip, Pneumonia—all tell the tale too truly.

Before reaching the DANGER POINT take OZOMULSION, the Food-Medicine that has saved many thousands from the Danger Point and Death.

Ozomulsion is known, recommended and sold by worthy druggists everywhere in 16 oz. and 8 oz. bottles.

Always ask for Ozomulsion by name.

That all may experience for themselves this exclusive preparation will do, a 3-oz. trial bottle will be sent by mail to all who send their address, by post-card or letter, to the Ozomulsion Co., 548 Pearl St., New York.

by the Rev. Thomas R. Reeves, of Washington Street Church. The reports from the several schools showed the following organization for the past month:

	Average.	Average.	P.O.
Washington St. Ch.	317	179	.56
High Street Ch.	198	108	.54
Market Street Ch.	252	198	.78
Westley St. Ch.	291	152	.52
West Street Ch.	242	198	.79
Patrick St. Ch.	200	125	.62
Blanchard St. Ch.	198	141	.71
Blanchard St. Ch.	118	80	.70
Totals	2,050	1,482	.71

This is a remarkably good showing considering the bad weather for a month past. A number of new scholars were added, and the Sunday school collections for the month aggregated $128.50.

General News.

It has been discovered that Montgomery Davis, a negro, who is under bond to appear for trial at this week's term of the Hustings Court, on the charge of selling cocaine, will not be able to appear. He is said to be serving a two-year term in the penitentiary of the far-off State of Missouri for pocket-picking. Chief Ragland got an inkling of this fact, communicated with the authorities at Jefferson City, and received in return a photograph of the prisoner, which fully identified him as Davis. The accused man has had one or more trials for cocaine selling here, but without a verdict, and he was bailed for another trial. He is known in Missouri as "Johnny Davis."

Judge West will open the January term of the Circuit Court of Prince George county to-morrow, but it is expected the docket will be an unimportant one.

Some alarm was caused yesterday afternoon by the discovery of smoke issuing from the home of a family in the Second Baptist Church on Washington Street, and fear was expressed that the fine edifice was on fire. The department was called, but investigation showed that the smoke proceeded from an unused furnace, in which a quantity of trash had been piled and set afire. No damage was done.

John Meade, a negro, was sentenced to jail for six months by the Police Justice this morning for stealing a pair of shoes from a Bollingbrook Street merchant.

A large delegation of Petersburgers will attend the Anti-Saloon League Convention which opens in Richmond to-morrow night. The sentiment among them is said to favor State-wide prohibition.

The pay of a Petersburg policeman is $22 per day, it is understood, that in view of the high prices of living the Council will be asked to increase this pay, and the Police Commissioners doubtless will favor the request.

FIRES DESTROY RESIDENCE.

Dr. Selby's Home Burned and Contents a Total Loss.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Warrenton, Va., January 17.—The residence of Dr. John H. Selby was totally destroyed by fire early this morning. The local fire company promptly responded when the alarm was sounded, but it was seen at once that it was impossible to save it, and the attention of the firemen was then directed to save the adjoining residence of Commonwealth's Attorney J. A. C. Smith, and with this object in view they saved from any harm except a slight damage from water.

Dr. and Mrs. Selby escaped hurriedly, the flames were making great headway when the fire was discovered. The entire collection of handsome wedding presents were lost, and only a small portion of their clothing was saved. The loss of Dr. Selby's office equipment was entire. Not a thing was saved on the second floor and only the furnishings of one room on the first floor. Its origin is unknown.

The cottage was owned by Mrs. J. B. Patton, who lost her main residence in the big fire here November 22, and there was only $500 insurance on the property. The household effects were partially insured.

Enter Suit Against Southern.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Alexandria, Va., January 17.—Suit was instituted in the Circuit Court for this city to-day by Alice McMenamin and husband, Richard, to recover damages in the sum of $7,500 from the Southern Railway Company for injury alleged to have been done to their house and its contents by smoke and soot from the defendant's engines. The McMenamins reside north of the company's yard tracks.

Subscriptions for New Church.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Weidon, N. C., January 17.—At the Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday $14.00 was received in subscriptions for the new church. Work on the church will begin early in the spring. It will be a brick structure, and will cost $20,000.

TRIAL OF JUDGE WILLIAMS

Case Against Attorney-General Set for February 1.

Welch, Va., January 17.—The trial of Judge Samuel W. Williams, Attorney-General, elect, of Virginia, for an assault committed upon another lawyer in court here some time ago, was set to-day for February 3 by agreement of counsel.

PRISONER WALSH, PETITION DENIED

Supreme Court Refuses Writ in Case of Aged Chicago Banker.

Washington, D. C., January 17.—The petition for the writ of certiorari in the case of John R. Walsh, former president of the Chicago National Bank, of Chicago, under sentence to five years' imprisonment in the Federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan., on the charge of misapplying the funds of the bank, was denied to-day by the Supreme Court of the United States.

Originally there were 182 counts in the indictment against Walsh. He was found guilty on 54 of them, and was given sentence of five years for each of the 54 counts. The sentences were, however, made to run concurrently, so that instead of being compelled to undergo life imprisonment he will be released at the end of the one term. The case was tried in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the verdict was affirmed by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Hears It Calmly.
Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Chicago, Ill., January 17.—A few hours after John R. Walsh, former president of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, who is under a five years' sentence in Leavenworth prison for misapplying the funds of the bank, was convicted on 54 counts, to-day the United States Supreme Court had denied his petition for a writ of certiorari, his attorneys filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the seventh circuit.

Uncle Sam

Will not lead you astray, neither will our timepieces. A good Watch will save you lots of trouble and annoyance. We have many styles of cases and finish, any of which will give you "freedom and independence," and in the "course of all human events" furnish you with a timepiece that will be thoroughly up-to-date.

J. S. James,

Jeweler and Optician,
Seventh and Main Streets.

Accounts Opened with Reliable Persons.

CHURCHES WITE FOR MISSION WORK

Great Laymen's Movement Stirs Various Raleigh Denominations.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Raleigh, N. C., January 17.—Pastors and laymen of the Raleigh churches were delighted with the great laymen's mission convention in Greensboro, and are enthusiastic over the outlook for united effort by the denominations for Christianizing the Orient and other unchristian countries of the world.

Hon. R. H. Battle, senior warden of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Episcopal, declared in an address before that congregation Sunday morning that he believes that within twenty-five years China, Japan and other heathen lands will have been Christianized through united effort brought about by this Laymen's Missionary Movement.

Dr. L. McK. Hester, pastor, declared in connection with the same service Sunday that the most significant thing about the Greensboro convention was the fact that it was a laymen's convention, and that it was a laymen's convention.

Dr. L. McK. Hester, pastor, declared in connection with the same service Sunday that the most significant thing about the Greensboro convention was the fact that it was a laymen's convention, and that it was a laymen's convention.

Dr. L. McK. Hester, pastor, declared in connection with the same service Sunday that the most significant thing about the Greensboro convention was the fact that it was a laymen's convention, and that it was a laymen's convention.

Dr. L. McK. Hester, pastor, declared in connection with the same service Sunday that the most significant thing about the Greensboro convention was the fact that it was a laymen's convention, and that it was a laymen's convention.

Dr. L. McK. Hester, pastor, declared in connection with the same service Sunday that the most significant thing about the Greensboro convention was the fact that it was a laymen's convention, and that it was a laymen's convention.

Dr. L. McK. Hester, pastor, declared in connection with the same service Sunday that the most significant thing about the Greensboro convention was the fact that it was a laymen's convention, and that it was a laymen's convention.

Dr. L. McK. Hester, pastor, declared in connection with the same service Sunday that the most significant thing about the Greensboro convention was the fact that it was a laymen's convention, and that it was a laymen's convention.

Dr. L. McK. Hester, pastor, declared in connection with the same service Sunday that the most significant thing about the Greensboro convention was the fact that it was a laymen's convention, and that it was a laymen's convention.

Dr. L. McK. Hester, pastor, declared in connection with the same service Sunday that the most significant thing about the Greensboro convention was the fact that it was a laymen's convention, and that it was a laymen's convention.

Dr. L. McK. Hester, pastor, declared in connection with the same service Sunday that the most significant thing about the Greensboro convention was the fact that it was a laymen's convention, and that it was a laymen's convention.

Dr. L. McK. Hester, pastor, declared in connection with the same service Sunday that the most significant thing about the Greensboro convention was the fact that it was a laymen's convention, and that it was a laymen's convention.

Dr. L. McK. Hester, pastor, declared in connection with the same service Sunday that the most significant thing about the Greensboro convention was the fact that it was a laymen's convention, and that it was a laymen's convention.

Dr. L. McK. Hester, pastor, declared in connection with the same service Sunday that the most significant thing about the Greensboro convention was the fact that it was a laymen's convention, and that it was a laymen's convention.

Dr. L. McK. Hester, pastor, declared in connection with the same service Sunday that the most significant thing about the Greensboro convention was the fact that it was a laymen's convention, and that it was a laymen's convention.

Dr. L. McK. Hester, pastor, declared in connection with the same service Sunday that the most significant thing about the Greensboro convention was the fact that it was a laymen's convention, and that it was a laymen's convention.

Dr. L. McK. Hester, pastor, declared in connection with the same service Sunday that the most significant thing about the Greensboro convention was the fact that it was a laymen's convention, and that it was a laymen's convention.

Dr. L. McK. Hester, pastor, declared in connection with the same service Sunday that the most significant thing about the Greensboro convention was the fact that it was a laymen's convention, and that it was a laymen's convention.

Dr. L. McK. Hester, pastor, declared in connection with the same service Sunday that the most significant thing about the Greensboro convention was the fact that it was a laymen's